LIVES OF THE CRIMINALS

First Published in 1735.

Edited by A. L. HAYWARD.

Crown 4to, 620 pages. 25/- net

A continuation, in point of date, of Captain Smith's Highwaymen, published in uniform style last year. The present volume, however, is much more authentic, and is a serious attempt to depict low life and criminal conditions in the early part of the eighteenth century. The lives of such personages as Jack Sheppard, Jonathan Wild, Blueskin, Catherine Hays, the Waltham Blacks, and John Levee are included.

THE STORY OF MYTHS

By E. E. KELLETT.

7/6 net

Exhibits the main psychological elements which have contributed to the formation and development of myth illustrated by typical and suggestive examples, chiefly from Greek and Teutonic mythology.

GUESTS OF BRITISH ANTS

By H. ST. J. K. DONISTHORPE, F.Z.S. With 16 plates and 55 text illustrations. 18/- net

Deals with all the creatures who live in some form of relationship, symbiotic or parasitic, with British Ants. Discusses fully their habits and life-histories.

PRINCESSES, LADIES, and SALONNIÈRES OF REIGN OF LOUIS XV

By THÉRÈSE LOUIS LATOUR.

With 16 plates, 8vo. 15/- net.

Re-creates for us by the magic of her imagination the women who lived and loved when Louis XV was king. Here is Marie Leczinska, the neglected Queen of France; the Comtesse de Toulouse and Mlle. de Charolais, lovers of excitement and violent pleasures; the Marquise de Pompadour, full of art and elegance; Marie Antoinette, so charming and so ill-fitted to reign. Here are Mme. d'Epinay, Mlle. de Lespinasse, Sophie de Monnier, and others.

PROPAGANDA TECHNIQUE IN THE WORLD WAR

By HAROLD D. LASSWELL.

10/6 net

This volume is a study in method, showing exactly how international antipathies and attractions can be controlled, illustrating his theme from the experience during the War of Great Britain, France, Germany, the United States, and other Powers.

FATHER OR SONS?

A Study in Social Psychology

By PRYNCE HOPKINS, Ph.D.

12/6 net

Taking Freud's theories as established, the author shows how an unconscious anti-father or pro-father attitude, carried over from infancy, is frequently the reason why a person embraces or rejects a particular social movement, such as Communism or Pacifism.

LETTERS OF MME. DE SÉVIGNÉ

Selected by RICHARD ALDINGTON, with an Introduction.

With 8 plates, two volumes, 8vo. 21/- net the set

Mme. de Sévigné's life covers a large part of the reign of Louis XIII and the most brilliant epoch of Bourbon despotism under Louis XIV. Her letters form a historical gossip-book, neither pure art nor pure history, nor pure idle chit-chat, but a medley of all three. This selection of a large portion of her correspondence possesses fascination and permanent interest.

International Library of Psychology

THE NEUROTIC PERSONALITY

By R. G. GORDON, M.D.

10/6 net

Defines the make-up of the neurotic personality, and indicates the lines on which he may be helped in his return to normality. Recent methods of treatment and the theories on which they are based (including those of the psycho-analytic schools) are examined and criticized.

POLITICAL PLURALISM:

A Study in Modern Political Theory

By K. C. HSIAO.

10/6 net

Approaches the political problems of Western civilization, unprejudiced by any local or party affiliations. This is the only book in any language to acquaint the reader with the development of Pluralism and the revolutionary changes implied by it. As such no student of political science can afford to neglect it.

THE IMMORTAL NINON

By CECIL AUSTIN.

(October 19th)

With 8 plates, 8vo. 10/6 net

A lively and original character-study of Ninon de Lenclos from an unusual angle. While the romance of her life is well brought out, its underlying significance is not missed. Sexual morality is a subject of perennial interest, and Ninon was more of a moralist than is commonly supposed. Undoubtedly she was a pioneer in this department, and her ideas are not yet fully understood.

Autumn List free on application.

GOETHE

By Professor J. G. ROBERTSON.

With a Portrait. 6/- net

A new volume in the Republic of Letters, both biographical and critical, taking account of all the most recent research.

ART IN GREECE

By A. DE RIDDER and W. DEONNA. With 24 plates and 66 text illustrations. 21/- net

In the History of Civilization Series. Shows the place taken by art in the practical life of the Greeks throughout their history, and analyses the meaning of the two opposed tendencies in Greek Art of Ionianism and the Dorian spirit.

Library of XVIIIth Century French Literature

PRIVATE LIFE OF THE MARSHAL DUKE OF RICHELIEU

Translated by F. S. FLINT. Introduction by RICHARD ALDINGTON. 4 plates. 10/6 net

If the Private Life is genuine autobiography, it is an amazing picture of the licence of a grand seigneur. If it is a forgery, it shows what people had come to believe possible in the life of a marshal-duke of France.

REVERIES OF A SOLITARY

By J. J. ROUSSEAU. Translated, with an Introduction, by J. G. FLETCHER.

With a portrait. 10/6 net

This neglected book should be as widely known as the Confessions, to which it is the sequel. It contains some of Rousseau's most eloquent prose and most profound self-searchings.

To-Day and To-Morrow Series

HYMEN, or the Future of Marriage

By NORMAN HAIRE.

2/6 net

Second large impression printing

"He succeeds in enraging us with his hideous picture of a godless future. A kick from a mule is stimulating in a sense, and so are some pages of Hymen, but it is not cheerful reading. Yet in spite of this we feel that the book repays perusal."—Spectator.

THE NEXT CHAPTER:

The War Against the Moon

By ANDRÉ MAUROIS.

2/6 net

This imaginary chapter of world-history (1951-64) from the pen of one of the most brilliant living French authors, contains many profound ideas and much biting satire. "This delicate and delightful phantasy, presented with consummate art."—Spectator.

CHAPMAN & HALL'S AUTUMN BOOKS

A complete Autumn Catalogue will be sent post free on request.

THE LITERARY EVENT OF THE YEAR THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WALTER SAVAGE LANDOR

Now for the first time edited from the authentic manuscripts of the author, and the rare privately printed books in the collection of Mr. Thomas J. Wise, of Hampstead. The volumes will be edited and annotated by T. EARLE WELBY, author of "A Short History of English Poetry," "Algernon Swinburne," and Editor of "The Silver Treasury of English Lyrics." The edition will be complete in about 16 volumes, Royal 8vo, each volume containing a portrait or other illustration, price 30s. net per volume, sold only in sets. The edition will be limited to 525 sets, of which 500 will be for sale in England and America. The type will be distributed after the edition has been printed. The first two volumes appeared on September 20th, and one, or possibly two, volumes will appear every month until the edition is completed.

THE UNSPEAKABLE CURLL

By RALPH STRAUS, Author of "Robert Dodsley," "John Baskerville," and several novels. Limited Edition. 42s. net. Being some account of Edmund Curll, bookseller; to which is added a full list of his books. This is the story of a rather scandalous, but very remarkable person. With a little manipulation thoroughly in keeping with the period—he could be whitewashed, but Mr. Straus has preferred to write of this curious bookseller as he finds him.

A VALIANT GENTLEMAN

By SARITA WARD. With 32 illustrations. Demy 8vo. 18s. net. Being the biography of Herbert Ward, artist and man of action. Herbert Ward, who died a few years ago, was one of the most remarkable men of his time. His wife has written his story with great vividness, and it makes a most romantic narrative.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY DIVERSIONS

Edited, with Introductions, by RALPH STRAUS. Limited Edition. Demy 8vo. 21s. net per volume. A new series of handsome reprints, exhibiting the lighter side of metropolitan life under Queen Anne and the first two Georges. The first two volumes will be:—(1) TRICKS OF THE TOWN. (2) A DESCRIPTION OF THE LONDON CLUBS. In this series it is proposed to hold in review "The Town" as seen from various unusual angles. The theatres, club-life, crime, sports, pastimes, etc., will thus be shown in a contemporary dress. The various lives, minions, and satirical squibs, etc., will be reprinted without alteration or omission, and Introductions will take the place of irritating notes.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY FRENCH ROMANCES

This series, which will not exceed 12 volumes, is limited to 1,000 numbered sets. The price of each volume, sold separately, is 21s. net. The two latest additions, making 11 volumes, are "Spleen" by BESENVAL, with an Introduction by Havelock Ellis, and "A Thousand and One Follies," by JACQUES CAZOTTE, with an Introduction by Margaret Storm Jameson.

NEW 7s. 6d. FICTION.

THREE WIVES

By BEATRICE KEAN SEYMOUR, Author of "The Last Day," &c. SECOND IMPRESSION. Gerald Gould in the Daily News says: "There is something extraordinarily active, vivid, provocative, alive, about everything she writes. . . . It is delightful to read."

THE WORM

By DESMOND COKE, Author of "Half-Way," "The Bending of a Twig," &c.

BEHOLD, A WOMAN

By NEIL LITTLEJOHN. A brilliant first novel.

CHAINED

By FRANK HIRD, Author of "The Deeper Stain," &c.

GEORGIAN STORIES. 1927

Edited by ARTHUR WAUGH.

NETTLE HARVEST

By SYLVIA DENYS HOOKE. A first novel of outstanding merit.

STUDIES OF AN IMPERIALIST

By THE LORD SYDENHAM OF COMBE, G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., G.C.I.E., G.B.E., F.R.S. Demy 8vo, with Portrait. 18s. net. He has here collected his principal political and sociological articles, dealing in an outspoken and fearless fashion with the problems of his time, and showing again and again how clearly he foresaw the trend of events, and offered wise advice to his fellow counsellors. The book offers a message for the future no less than a record for the past, and is a remarkable tribute to its author's versatility and grasp.

FOLK TALES OF PROVENCE

By W. BRANCH JOHNSON, Author of "Folk-Tales of Brittany," with 8 illustrations by the Author. Crown 8vo. 7s. 6d. net. He has now written a companion volume, dealing with the Folk Tales of Provence, in which he has a theme, or rather a series of themes, very congenial to his temperament. His book will delight everyone who has visited or is intending to visit one of the most fascinating regions in Europe.

THE LOCOMOTIVE GOD

By WILLIAM E. LEONARD, Author of "Two Lives." Demy 8vo. 18s. net. This is one of the most curious, powerful and astonishing autobiographies written in many years. It is the honest and compelling story of a poet and scholar, a man of acknowledged brilliance and achievement. But he is a strangely erratic man. His whole life has been undermined by terrific psychological abnormalities. He lives in constant dread of noise and turmoil; and is harassed by a series of phobias which prevent him from travelling more than a half-mile from the security of his home. These thundering fears the author traces back to the events of his curious childhood.

MENAGERIES, CIRCUSES AND THEATRES

By E. H. BOSTOCK, Himself. Demy 8vo. With 32 illustrations. 18s. net. Mr. Bostock gives the story of his Menagerie from its beginning to its triumphant success, and has innumerable stories to tell about misadventures with animals, fires, and other disasters. The book is not to be regarded as a theatrical history. It is as full of exciting stories as any book of adventure.

SELECTED SHORT STORIES

By the late W. L. GEORGE, Author of "A Bed of Roses," "Gifts of Sheba," &c.

THE LATER YEARS

By BARRY PAIN, Author of "The Gifted Family," &c. Ready Immediately.

TYPET'S TREASURE

By JOHN TREVENA, Author of "Furze the Cruel," "A Pixy in Petticoats," &c.

I, SAID THE SPARROW

By RUTH BROCKINGTON, Author of that very successful first novel "When the Devil Drives."

THIS, MY SON

By DOUGLAS PULLEYNE, Author of "The Frantic Master" and "Spring Sorrel."

JACK A' MANORY

By G. B. STERN, Author of "Tents of Israel," &c. Her best short stories.

HARRAP

BOOKS

"This book is delicious. Mr. Marshall has hit on the brilliant idea of turning the breathless babbling of a child to account as a medium of narration."—Westminster Gazette.

Simple Stories

By ARCHIBALD MARSHALL. With Drawings by GEORGE MORROW.

Second Large Impression. 7s. 6d. net.

WHAT TWO CRITICS SAY:

ARNOLD PALMER in the Sphere:

"Finding the stories very much to my taste, I tried some of them on an audience of children. 'The Robber,' 'The Quarrel,' 'Wobblejuice,' had an uproarious reception. The children's verdict was the same as my own. 'Wobblejuice' I regard as one of the funniest and most ingenious stories I ever read."

RALPH STRAUS in the Bystander:

"Mightily amusing, particularly if you read them aloud. Personally I have read the dreadful story of Gladys Conk and the Robber to all my visitors, and we have rolled helplessly about. [It is] unspeakable joy. This is a book to be bought for birthdays or Christmases or any other sort of convivial celebration."

Parrot Pie

By WILLIAM KEAN SEYMOUR.

6s. net.

A book of parodies of contemporary prose and poetry.

"W. K. S., who has given us a witty book, full of critical wisdom, takes his place in the honourable queue in which may be seen C. S. C. and J. K. S. and other masters of 'the vile art.'"—Morning Post.

"We cannot deny Mr. Seymour one of the foremost places in his art. A delicious book."—Westminster Gazette.

A Celtic Anthology

By GRACE RHYS.

7s. 6d. net.

"An extremely valuable book. The translations of Irish, Scotch, and Welsh poems here set before us are as timely and welcome as the poems which need no translation; to many people they will be a genuine revelation."—Sunday Times.

"A volume which entitles Mrs. Rhys to the gratitude of all lovers of poetry."—Saturday Review.

The Shaping of English Literature

By AMY CRUSE.

With 32 Illustrations. 7s. 6d. net.

"Employing a method as novel as it is ingenious, Mrs. Cruse makes us see the parent of English literature not through her own critical eyes, but through those of the successive generations which witnessed it. This delightful book will prove a veritable feast to the novice, while of those well acquainted with its subject there will be few who will not find fresh light shed on some nook or corner of their reading."—Sunday Times.

In Search of Our Ancestors

By MARY E. BOYLE.

Preface by the ABBÉ HENRI BREUIL.

With reproductions of cave-paintings in colour, and many other illustrations. 10s. 6d. net.

Starting with the Iron Age, the author traces man's history back through the Bronze, Copper, Neolithic, and Palaeolithic Ages to its earliest beginnings. "The most attractive book of its kind I have come across."—Illustrated London News.

TRAVEL, ETC.

The Narrative of Samuel Hancock

1845-60

Edited by ARTHUR D. HOWDEN SMITH.

10s. 6d. net.

Being a description of his overland journey to Oregon in 1845, his captivity among the Indians, etc. With maps. Now published for the first time.

A Voyage to the South Seas

1740-41

By JOHN BULKELEY and JOHN CUMMINS, Gunner and Carpenter of the Wager. Edited by ARTHUR D. HOWDEN SMITH.

10s. 6d. net.

First published in 1743, this narrative tells of the wreck of the Wager and the hardships of the crew in the region of Patagonia. The illustrations are reproduced from contemporary prints and maps.

The Italian Riviera

By BOHUN LYNCH. "Kitbag Travel Books." 7s. 6d. net.

This book, the second in the series inaugurated by Stephen Gwynn's Ireland, deals with the scenery, customs, and food of the Italian Riviera. Its narrative form and charm of style enable it to be enjoyed as a piece of literature as well as read for its information.

The Fellāhīn of Upper Egypt

By WINIFRED S. BLACKMAN. Introduction by R. R. MARETT, D.Sc. With many illustrations. 15s. net.

The author was in charge of the Percy Sladen Expedition of 1922-25. She gives an account of the religious, social, and industrial life of the present-day agricultural class (with special reference to survivals from ancient times) which will be of much importance to Egyptologists, anthropologists, and tourists.

NEW FICTION

The House of Lost Identity

By DONALD CORLEY. With Decorations by the Author, and an Introduction by JAMES BRANCH CABELL, Author of Jurgen.

10s. net.

Tales of fantasy which are in Mr. Cabell's opinion "very fine" and in which "you encounter magic."

The Victory Murders

By FOSTER JOHNS.

7s. 6d. net.

"Who is Foster Johns? He writes with competence and a knowledge of the world. An unusually well-sustained mystery story."—ROSE MACAULAY in Daily News.

"A detective story of positively bewildering cleverness. On a much higher plane of constructive skill than 90 per cent. of the novels of its class."—Liverpool Post.

For publication on November 1st

NEW LIPPINCOTT BOOKS

THE PRACTICAL BOOK OF ITALIAN, SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE FURNITURE

By HAROLD DONALDSON EBERLEIN and ROGER WEARNE RAMSDELL.
Octavo. Fully Illustrated. Ready shortly. 42s.

A most practical work in one volume covering the furniture of these three countries now so greatly to the fore in decoration.

A New Volume in the Variorum Edition of the Works of WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE.

CORIOLANUS

Edited by HORACE HOWARD FURNESS, Ph.D.,
LL.D., Litt.D., and HORACE HOWARD FURNESS,
Jr., A.B., Litt.D.
Royal 8vo. Gilt top. Uncut edges. Ready shortly.
Cloth. 25s.

Technically, "Coriolanus" is one of Shakespeare's finest plays. T. S. Eliot in "The Sacred Wood" claims it is a better play than "Hamlet." It completes the series of Roman plays and is consequently in demand by all collectors of this edition.

THAT MIND OF YOURS

A Psychological Analysis. 6s.
By DANIEL BELL LEARY, Ph.D.

This is a fascinating story of the "new psychology"—fascinating because it outlines the latest scientific theories about that most interesting of all subjects—YOUR OWN SELF. Written in easy, moving, non-technical, narrative style.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

By SYDNEY GEORGE FISHER.
24 full-page Illustrations, New Library Binding. 15s.

This book is different from most biographies. It is an analytical and intimate study of a many-sided man.

OLD TRAILS AND ROADS IN PENN'S LAND

By JOHN T. FARIS.
Frontispiece in colour, 61 double-tone Illustrations.
Handsome octavo. 25s.

There is a real treat in store for hosts of people when they dip into this enchanting volume on "Penn's Woods." Dr. Faris carries the history of each highway, each trail and each settlement not only through the earlier years, but up to the very present.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

Edited by Dr. E. C. HAYES, of the University of Illinois. (Lippincott's Sociological Series). 415 pp. 15s.

This is a critical survey of the recent developments presented in such a fashion as to make most interesting reading.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS OF THE FAMILY

By ERNEST R. GROVES. 10s. 6d.

This volume is a scientific study, a dynamic portrayal of family life in the process of adjustment in its attempt to minister to the needs of both the individual and the group in their practical everyday life.

HOW TO SPEAK FRENCH LIKE THE FRENCH

By MARIE and JEANNE YERSIN (originators of the Phone-Rhythmic Method). 10s. 6d.

Those who study this book will acquire a command of the French language surpassing all expectations.

HOW TO USE YOUR MIND

By HARRY D. KITSON, Ph.D.
Third Edition. Thoroughly revised and re-set. 6s.

WHERE'S EMILY

A New Fleming Stone Detective Story. 7s. 6d.

By CAROLYN WELLS, Author of "All At Sea," etc.

This new thriller has one of the most diabolical and apparently unfathomable plots Miss Wells ever unearthed.

THE WHITE FLOWER

By GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL. 7s. 6d.

Here's another of Mrs. Hill's eagerly awaited stories—a romance as charming as "Job's Niece" and as full of thrills as anyone could possibly wish.

THE CAMBRIDGE ANCIENT HISTORY

Edited by J. B. BURY, M.A., S. A. COOK, Litt.D., and F. E. ADCOCK, M.A. Volume of Plates I. (Illustrating Volumes I-IV.) Prepared by C. T. SELTMAN, M.A. Royal 8vo. 25s net.

This volume is intended primarily to afford that evidence for the history described in volumes I-IV which can only be given by pictorial representation. Beside the record of the deeds and thoughts of the civilised world to the end of the sixth century B.C. given in the first four volumes of the history it sets the corresponding record of man's art and craftsmanship.

FIVE ROMAN EMPERORS

Vespasian, Titus, Domitian, Nerva, Trajan. A.D. 69-117. By B. W. HENDERSON, M.A., D.Litt. With 4 maps. Demy 8vo. 21s net.

Dr Henderson discusses the main historical aspects and characters of the period A.D. 69-117. The history of this period is largely a tale of wars and frontiers, but Dr Henderson also deals with the Emperors themselves, their attitude to Christianity, and some aspects of social and economic history.

NINE ESSAYS

By ARTHUR PLATT. With a Preface by A. E. HOUSMAN. With a frontispiece. Demy 8vo. 8s. 6d. net.

The essays deal with the following subjects: Science and Arts among the Ancients, Edward Fitzgerald, Aristophanes, La Rochefoucauld, Lucian, Cervantes, Julian, The Relations of Poetry and Science, and Plato. In his Preface Professor Housman gives the main facts of Platt's life and an appreciation of his character and intellectual ability.

THE LIFE OF SIR ALBERT HASTINGS MARKHAM

By M. E. and F. A. MARKHAM. With a portrait, 4 plates, 13 text-figures, and 3 maps. Demy 8vo. 15s net.

"Renowned alike as a sea-officer and an explorer, he practised throughout his busy, arduous, and varied career the stern and simple ideals of faith and duty and kindness; and his life, so modestly and skilfully chronicled by the Misses M. E. and F. A. Markham, will become a classic among naval biographies. Every naval cadet should possess and study this enthralling volume."

THE POETRY OF THE AGE OF WORDSWORTH

I. An Anthology of the Five Major Poets, selected by J. DOVER WILSON. Crown 8vo. 7s 6d net. (The Cambridge Anthologies.)

The Cambridge Anthologies, which, after the publication of two volumes, had to be laid aside owing to the war, are recommenced by the publication of the present volume. The aim of the series was to provide the general reader with first-hand knowledge of the literary atmosphere and social conditions in which the masterpieces of English literature were created; and two anthologies, Prof. Dover Wilson's Life in Shakespeare's England and Mr W. T. Young's Poetry of the Age of Shakespeare, were duly issued. The present volume is intended to provide, in a handy form, an anthology of the best work of Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, and Keats.

RELUCTANTLY TOLD

By JANE HILLYER

Introduction by JOSEPH COLLINS, M.D.

The true story of a mental breakdown. The author tells of the delusions and terrors that afflicted her as she lost control of her reason, of her stay in the asylum, her gradual recovery and return to normal life.

It is a vivid and moving story, beautifully written so that we never taste the dregs of the theme. Dr. Collins vouches for its genuineness and recommends it not only to the general public, but to teachers, social workers, and even physicians.

OCTOBER

*It is hard to pick and choose from a list like the one below, but we should like to draw special attention to Cups, Wands and Swords, a comedy of London, by Helen Simpson. You will need no reminder of Red Sky, Flamingo and the Conrad Life.

6th—What I Saw in Russia:

The new volume in the Collected Edition of MAURICE BARING'S works. 10s. 6d.

The Arrow:

The strange tale of the young man, shot through the heart in Piccadilly Circus; and two other stories, by CHRISTOPHER MORLEY. 7s. 6d.

*Cups, Wands and Swords:

By HELEN SIMPSON. Comedy, certainly, but a good deal else as well. The kind of book that deserves a second reading, and gets it. 7s. 6d.

13th—The Seven Strings of the Lyre:

An illustrated Life of George Sand by ELIZABETH W. SCHERMERHORN. 15s.

The First Lady Wharncliffe and her Family: By her grandchildren, CAROLINE GROSVENOR, and the late LORD STUART of WORTLEY. Illustrated. 36s.

*Flamingo:

A new MARY BORDEN novel, which is likely to add considerably to the reputation of the author of Jane, our Stranger. 480 pp. 7s. 6d.

The Brook Kerith:

By GEORGE MOORE. Revised and "re-orchestrated" by the author. Uniform Edition. 10s. 6d.

20th—The Life and Letters of Joseph Conrad*:

In two volumes, by G. JEAN AUBRY. A biography which cannot be superseded. Illustrated. £2 2s.

The Sentimentalist:

A story of tropical days and nights, by DALE COLLINS, author of Ordeal. 7s. 6d.

A Long Week-End:

A story by MARGARET KENNEDY, in an attractive green paper binding. 1s. net. There is also a signed edition, limited to 250 copies for sale, bound in paper boards. 6s.

27th—The Greville Diary. 1830-1860:

Re-edited, and including all those passages hitherto withheld from publication. 2 vols. 36s.

Count Von Luckner, the Sea Devil:

The story of a Great War Adventurer, told by LOWELL THOMAS. 8s. 6d.

*Red Sky at Morning:

The story of William and Emily Crowne, by MARGARET KENNEDY. We think this a better book than The Constant Nymph. 7s. 6d.

Redeemed:

By R. B. CUNNINGHAME GRAHAM. This volume includes short stories—the first fiction Mr. Cunningham Graham has written for ten years—and sketches. 7s. 6d.

Benighted:

J. B. PRIESTLEY'S second novel: the chronicle of five people's lives during a night of thunder, landslides, flood and terror. 7s. 6d.

One Crystal and a Mother:

By ELLEN DUPOIS TAYLOR. Ford Madox Ford says "I certainly never came across a first, or an early novel that had one half its brilliance, its insight into life, or its power to intrigue a reader." 7s. 6d.

Autumn's here, but it's high Summer
